DANVILLE, VA.

JAMES M. NEAL & CO., Proprietors.

A happy, prosperous New Year to all of you!

We beg to call your attention to the fact that we have since last season added to our Warehouse

a Brick addition of hundred and twenty ft.,

making our House one of the largest in our town, and the only Brick Warehouse here; this has been with an eye to better facilitate the unloading and weighing of Tobacco.

In addition to this, looking to the comfort of Planters who occasionally have to encounter all kinds of weather when they market their Tobacco, we have fitted up our CAMP House (which by the way is the largest in our place), with beds and bedding which is kept clean at all times. We also have a Cooking Stove and cook to render you facilities in that line. We also have a fire, Well

Water, in our yard, surrounded by 30 good stables, most of which have locks and keys, and last but not least the best Auctioneer in the State and the good will of all the buyers.

He will visit Chapel Hill the first and third Mondays

in each month. Feb. 18

FARM-YARD SCRAPS.

We would call the attention of farmers and others wishing to raise fine, docile stock to the horse owned by Mr. Ruby.

We hope the farmers in Orange, will improve the opportunity of raising from this justly celebrated Morgan horse.

The best bank ever known is a bank of earth; it never refused to discount to honest labor. And the best share is the plow-share; on which dividends are always liberal.

TOOTH ACHE.

If the tooth contains a cavity which can be easily reached, fill it with sugar of lead.

Allow it to remain a few minutes, then wash it out with warm water, being careful to remove all of it. This is the most prompt relief for tooth-ache—save the forceps—

with which we are familiar.

RHEUMATISM.

A very simple remedy for rheumatism of the extremities, and one that very often gives great relief is, to take a large piece of thick flannel, sprinkle it well with fine

pulverised sulphur, and then bind snugly about the limb with the sulphur next the skin.

TO PREVENT RUST.

A composition may be made for the purpose, consisting of fat, oil, and tannin, mixed with four fifths of highly rectified spirits of turpentine. If the metal be covered with this tannin, put on with a sponge; it will never become rusty. It is very useful for copper also, and will likewise preserve philosophical instruments, and prevent them being tarnished from contact with water.

HILLING CORN A BAD PRACTICE.

Roots love darkness, and wish to be as near as possible to the surface; and whether it is the root of an apple tree or the root of a corn-stalk, makes no difference in the working of this law. If we plough deep and cut off the surface roots, the deeper ones are unable to reap any benefit from the atmosphere; and those covered by the soil ploughed over them are in just the same position. This is the "science" of the thing. But better than this is the experience of those who have tried the matter

by careful and intelligent experiments. So far as we know, every such test has resulted in favor of flat culture and against hill-ing up.

DO NOT COVER CORN TOO DEEP.

Cover the corn carefully, and never more than one and a half to two inches deep. If planted deeper than this, it will be longer coming up, and after it comes up it will grow very well until it is three or four inches high, when it will remain stationary for ten days or two weeks. By examining, we shall find that the first joint is below the surface of the soil, also that the roots are decaying, while new ones are being thrown out from the joint. These new roots require some ten or fifteen days for their complete formation, and during this time the plant remains stationary so far as growth is concerned. So soon as the new roots are fully formed, the old ones will entirely disappear, and the growth will proceed as usual.

GREEN VEILS.

We frequently see little children in their carriages over the street, with green veils tied over their heads and faces. A child will always take the folds of the veil in its mouth, when it can, and will often extract

the green coloring matter with its lips.

Children and even grown people, have sore mouths and faces from this cause, which are frequently difficult to heal. The coloring matter in the green veil contains arsenic, which, when placed in contact with a delicate surface like the lips, or a pimple upon

Hillsborough Recorder.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1871.

Martins appeared in Missouri the 16th of February.

It is said that chewing of coarsely cut gentian root after every meal, will cure the taste for tobacco.

Col. Peyton Wise has been elected Captain of the Richmond Blues vice Capt. C. P. Bigger, resigned.

There is scarcely a live pig in Benton county, Arkansas. They have conglutinated themselves to death.

The wise man has his follies no less than the fool. One is concealed and the other known to the world.

A 14 year old girl in Wisconsin rich in every way married a man aged 40 as poor as Job's turkey. How strange!

Caleb Cushing has purchased and resides at a beautiful country seat called the "Globe" near the Aqueduct Bridge, in Virginia.

He that knows a little of the world will admire it enough to fall down and worship it; but he that knows most will most despise it. — Ex. paper.

Mrs. Eddy, of Illinois, caught her better half kissing the servant girl. The doctor was sent for. He says he can patch up Mr. Eddy's face, but he'll always be bald-headed.

The pig was regarded by the ancient Egyptians as an unclean animal, so much so that if an Egyptian accidentally touched one, he instantly hurried to the river and plunged in with all his clothes on.

A learned physician of England is of the opinion that the right side of the brain is more important for organic life than the left side. But how is it when there is no brain to be found on either side?

The Chinese government is decidedly "conservative" on the woman question. The law is that any woman who disputes in the slightest degree the authority of her husband may be murdered out of hand.

We missed the last issue of the Hillsboro Recorder. — Richmond Whig. We certainly mailed it to you. Glad you miss us. Expect your good looking young man was out Missin' when it arrived.

At the zoological garden of Dresden Saxony, a tigress gave birth to three young ones, which the keeper turned over to a female dog that accepted them in lieu of her own progeny, and the little tigers are doing well.

A man calling his name Carter and hailing from Rockingham county, N. C., was arrested at Big Lick, Va., a few days ago, charged with having in his possession a stolen horse and buggy and the wife of a citizen of Rockingham. Can this be Dabbs?

The heralding of the late municipal elections at the various cross road towns in this State as great party victories, is simply ridiculous. We perceive the Hillsborough municipal election is gazetted as a "conservative victory." It was a victory over Conservative opposition.

Sarah Johnson of Williamson, Tenn., while trying to part two roosters that were fighting was wounded in the arm by the spur of one of them. Tetanus ensued, and she died. And her husband, who was a consumptive, was so affected that he died also. That rooster ought to have his neck wrung.

We learn from the Lumberton Reporter of the 11th inst., that about 8 o'clock on the morning of the 10th, Henry Berry Lowry and his band of Outlaws, entered that town and breaking open the jail released Tom Lowry and Pop Oxendine, two rascals belonging to their party. And this while a Company of U. S. troops rendezvoused in the town!

A dem-phoin young fellow who wears fancy "close" and a bell-crown beaver as tall as a stove-pipe, in the city of Raleigh, wants to edit that sprightly and excellent journal, the Charlotte Observer. The Observer can't exactly see the young gent, and deals him good advice that most youngsters who wear fine clothes and bell-crown hats would do well to take; to wit, go to work in the corn-field.

Somebody has presented brother YATES, of the Charlotte Democrat with a Knife, which he says he will carry to defend himself with when going home from his office dark nights. Isn't this contrary to the "reconstruction laws"? Mind how you handle that death-danlin' "weapon", brother.

The Bridgeport Farmer says that, in the old Division street graveyard of that place there is a marble slab to the memory of Robert Liane Banks, aged 12 years, who died in 1830. On the reverse of this stone is a stain which represents a woman grasping a club and in the act of striking. All attempts to obliterate this stain by scraping are ineffectual; it is the fifth stone that marks the spot, the preceding ones having been removed on account of their in-veterate tendency to represent the same scene. The legend is that the child was killed by its mother. What a warning!

The liquor law of Michigan provides a fine of $25 for the first conviction, $50 for the second, and $100 for the third offence for making a man drunk by selling him intoxicating beverages. In case a man drinks at a saloon and goes off and does injury to a person or property, the saloon keeper and the owner of the house (if it be rented) are both liable for damages. If the wife of a drunkard or a drinking man can prove that she or the family has been damaged by the sale of liquor, she can come back on the party that sold it for damages. Not a bad law.

We concur with the Charlotte Democrat in the opinion that the people have a perfect right to call a State Convention to amend their Constitution. The Legislature cannot call a Convention without a two-thirds majority, but the people, acting at the suggestion of the Legislature, can do it. The People have never parted with this right—whenever they do they become the abject slaves of petty tyrants. The Convention is all that can save the State from ruin and disgrace. Let every body go for it. It should meet the opposition of no party, for the interests of all alike demand some amendments of the existing Constitution.

THE CONFEDERATE SOLDIER.

We have got a roll in this office of the men who have been hard at work ever since the war, attending to their own business, and at peace with the world. For the most part this class is made up of the Confederate soldiers who stood guard in a real hour of danger when the cold steel of the musket would freeze and blister to their hands. Men who never shirked a single duty. Men, nervous and ready to wrap the winding sheet round their poor and half naked bodies and to lay down in rest under the dirt turned by bayonets. Men that waded in, filth and mire and blood with a horse's heels of some fine mounted officer—half drunk—throwing mud in their face.

Some are now on crutches, some with empty sleeves, and some shifting on the wheel of life to keep above the deep black pit of penury and want—but all are good citizens and law abiding men. Altho' the present times seem to indicate that the rich made the war and the poor hard working men, the fight—yet there is a mine of conscious pride of having done his duty that makes the "old soldier" curl his lip at the buckled-up struts of blood and broadcloth and the ninying and nuying of a college watered poetry who were at home smelling daisies when he was facing the hot battle of death. And in this consciousness he will be heard from on one of these fine mornings.

A CHAT WITH OUR FARMERS.

We have taken the trouble to compile a few Agricultural notes and facts of what is going on in the other States which we think will be found interesting to those farmers who are subscribers of this paper. These notes can be relied on as they were sent us in a Monthly Report by the Department at Washington and are for the month of March and April. To please the "old lady" of the Farm we will commence with the cow first and tell her some news about BUTTER AND MILK.

Why can't we run Dairy enterprises in old Orange? There is no better grass and meadow section in the State. Look how they do it in Kansas: Dr. Sternburg, of Fort Harker keeps 130 head of cattle and milks 30 cows from which last summer he marketed 3,000 pounds of butter at 50 cts. a pound. He commenced with good cows and supplied them with good water and salt every day and milked them regularly.

Milk is a most wholesome and economical food for rich and poor. Round steak at 20 cents a pound is dearer than milk at ten cents a quart. Milk at 10 cents a quart is the cheapest animal food that can be used. There is very little difference between the economical value of milk and beefsteak, or eggs and fish. The quantity of water in a good quality of milk is 86 per cent, in round steak 75 per cent, in fatter beef 60 per cent, and in eggs about 68 per cent.

In Nueces county, Texas, hogs have been healthy the entire year. They feed them on fish offal. A ranch has been established on Padre Island and immense quantities of fish are daily caught with the seine and cooked in large kettles and given to the hogs. A considerable amount of mortality is reported among the swine in this State. A loss of 50 per cent in Watauga county; 50 to 75 per cent in Garrick; 40 per cent in Chowan; large numbers from a new disease "of a lung fever type" in Gaston; 25 per cent in Davie; 20 per cent in Lincoln; 30 per cent in Greene; nine out of every ten attacked in Yadkin; 20 per cent, mostly near fruit distilleries, in Stanley; and 83 per cent in Alexandria—besides smaller losses in several other counties. A correspondent in Fayette county, Kentucky—where "hog cholera" has greatly prevailed—sends the following report: He observes there is no constancy in the appearance of the organs invaded by the disease—it may be the lungs, the stomach, the small intestines, or the large bowels. The microscope revealed a constant change in the blood—the globules being shrivelled. The seat of the disease is in the blood. A preventive has been used and has generally been successful—missing only when it was used in too small doses. The preventive is the carbolic acid, in strong solutions, dissolved in glycerine and as strong as possible, to be given in doses of 20 drops 3 times a day to each hog or shot of four months old; younger ones smaller doses. Milk or slop of any kind is a good vehicle to administer it in—say for 10 hogs 3 teaspoonsful of the solution put in two or three gallons of milk or slop; mix well by stirring; pour into a trough long enough for all the hogs and let them go to it all at once. The curative treatment is very similar—carbolic acid in the same amount 3 times a day adding to each dose a table spoonful of sulphate of soda. If the hog is too sick to eat throw it on its back and pour in its mouth; in this case a half pint of milk would be handy to give it in.

RICHMOND.

We take from the Whig, Dispatch and Enquirer: Richmond wants a pail factory. Mrs. Wirt Robinson of Richmond has sailed for Europe. Jim Grant under the assumed name of Russell is singing at Pittsburg with the Carveros and Dixie's Minstrels. W. L. Jennings, formerly of Milton, is a member of the Lee guards in Richmond. "Les" made a gallant soldier in the late war.

The largest income of any one person yet reported in Richmond is $26,000 on which a tax of over $600 is paid. HALIFAX C. H. We take from the Record: Wilkins Bruce didn't have a barn burnt with 40,000 pounds of tobacco. It was a barn of Capt. R. Owen and had 40,000 pounds of hay in it that was burnt. Prof. Dowdy is teaching a singing class. Frost Sunday morning.

DANVILLE.

We take from the Times: The Grays, and Blues, have been revived. Pleas, Robinson, Capt. of the Gray, and B. Green, of the Blues. There is less drinking than usual among the young men of Danville. Those that were wont to hold a gallon are now nothing more than quart measures. Ike Raines is building a fine house on Lynn street. Ike "made it" on candy and toys. Presbyterian ladies have a Fair the 18th and 19th—send us a "free ticket" and we'll sample the goodies.

W. S. Patton has strawberries on the vine as big as guinea eggs.

CHARLOTTE.

We take from Democrat and Observer: Charlotte has a skating rink. Brother Yates has been given a pocket knife. Gen. Clingman—says the Democrat—has declared for a Convention. We'll have it now! we suppose. The Rev. H. G. Hill of Fayetteville preaches the sermon before the Williams Association of Enquiry at the Commencement at Davidson College, the last week in June, and Gen. Matt. Ransom delivers the Address before the Societies.

SALEM.

We take from the Press: Martha Matthews—a negro—killed her new born babe by beating it over its head with a stick. Salem has had the "sheep rain." Salem Female College has its Entertainment on Thursday evening the 25th.

RALEIGH.

We take from the Telegraph:

Raleigh has a Rink. Diddle-de-dink!

The Police are cleaning up the back yards in Raleigh. W'd hate to be a "perlice!"

A wild cat skin stuffed with straw and brought into town was just thought the "best thing out" by the Wake Court House people.

Old chicken is 45 cents; and butter 40, while a delicate morsel of the fancy "Spring"—chick—is just 25 cents in Raleigh.

The Baptist Church has a new carpet. Also a splendid Organ which will be placed on the lower floor near the pulpit.

We take from the Star and Journal: The messes are in the city jail. A negro inside dead.

NEWBERN.

We take from the Commerce, and Republican: Geo. W. Taylor takes charge of the Atlantic House this summer.

They steal photograph albums in Newbern.

Newbern offers a thousand dollars for the scoundrel that fired the city at two points the other night.

Richard Berry is still selling "Christmas presents" in Newbern. The man's name is reasonable enough but his Christmas presents are entirely out of it.

MOZIS ADDUMS ON THE ROAD.

The Richmond Whig has a rich and humorous letter from the pen of Dr. Bagby—the Mozis of the South—detailing an account of a recent trip through the Richmond and Danville Road enroute for Danville. He first hits off

AMELIA COURT HOUSE.

These reflexions brought me to Emceleyer C. H. I wood lur to liv in Emceleyer. Mr. Tom Giles gets off at Emceleyer. Funder Forrer lives in Emceleyer.

About this time, Mr. Elieus Bolin he cum in, and sune arter Mr. Kosby uv the Hellfacks Record. Mr. Bolin exhibited with pride a big handbill uv goods for sale at his new sto in Berksvil, and flinged un out uv the winder as we went along. He tells me you kin now mend yo drink at the Junkshin thout no danjur, which I'm glad uv it. The nigger ladies that wuz very kind in offerin that chicken legs, but bein uv a Gordonsvill man I cant incurrige no opperation town.

Then he stays all night at KEYSVILLE.

We got to Keysvil. I kin say what few men kin say. I stayed all night wunst at Keysvil. Slep in the room with a yung man, and he wuz very yung. Bat he woked me at the crack of day rattin lumpsugar in a tumbler uv dram. Tole me he caried not only his whiskey, but his lumpsugar, too. He wuz very yung. Spee his dead now. Keysvil remarkable place.

CLOVER.

At Clover we stoit for supper, and I went to Mr. Wade's house. Tenderer briled chicken and fresher eggs I never set down to. Indeed, it wuz a nice supper, remindin me uv the best taverns in the old stage days. Clover is a place anybody would like to spend a few weeks at, but it would be a heavin to a quiet old bachelor. Bodin at the hotel, he would take three a day—three gulgers—the first with a little tansy or mint in it.

And takes notes at WOLF TRAP.

The nex station but one to Clover is Wolf Trap, which I stayed thar one night also. Its right in the woods and a plezint place to liv with a small family. A man by the name uv Lam keeps Wolf Trap, and Wolf Trap is what you gits off to go to Clarksvill—a lonesum rode mostly, passin the flyco country.

He speaks with some feeling of "NEWSIES" PERRY.

At Newes Perry me and sum mo gentilmn got into a batto some six years ago and foistid and poled down the river for two days thro the brillin sun till we got to Clarksvill, whar we shipped on foot back, and walked 60 miles to Blacks and Whites on the Southside railrode, whar we wuz took into captivity by the Yanks. A mile or two from Newes Perry lives one of the nicest old gentilmn in Virginyer. Mr. Davy Chambers—which his house is a good place to stay at in time of trouble, as I shall relate sun day when I git time.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

The PAIN KILLER is by universal consent allowed to have won for itself a reputation unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. Its instantaneous effect in the eradication and extinction of Pains in all its various forms incident to the human family, and the unsolicited written and verbal testimony of the masses in its favor, have been and are its own best advertisements. The ingredients of PAIN KILLER, being purely VEGETABLE, render it a perfectly safe and efficacious remedy taken internally, as well as for external application, when used according to directions. The stain upon linen from its use is readily removed by washing with alcohol. This Medicine, justly celebrated for the cure of so many of the afflictions incident to the human family, has now been before the public over THIRTY YEARS, and has found its way into almost every corner of the world; and wherever it has been used, the same opinion is expressed of its medicinal properties. In any attack, where prompt action upon the system is required, the PAIN KILLER is invaluable. Its almost instantaneous effect in relieving Pain is truly wonderful; and when used according to directions, is true to its name, a PAIN KILLER.

The Hillsborough Recorder.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1871.
LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

County Election.
The date of Orange county is about $30,000. An election was held last Thursday "Tax or no Tax" to know if the people were willing to enlarge the tax so as to pay the county out. By a majority of some 50 or 60 the people decided "no tax."

Attempt to Rob.
An Alex. Pleasant, postmaster here, was on his way home Saturday night with some $500 of the office money, a man jumped at him and but for a little bull eye lantern Mr. Pleasant had he would have gathered him. Mr. P. threw the light on him and he took to his heels. The man seemed to be a well and decently dressed young fellow.

The Bee.
What is a bee? How old is he? Who are his parents? and where did they come from? We read just now from Rev. Mr. Allison, of Ogle county, Illinois, where he says: "A neighbor told him he took up a stock late in the fall and as an experiment drummed the bees out into an empty hive and with them clustered in the top he buried the hive in the ground so deep that there were six inches of dirt over the top of it, and left it thus buried till the following April. When he took it up they were all alive and kicking."

An Altercation.
Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Wm. Robson had a difficulty one day last week on New Hope which threatens to have been a very serious affair. Mr. Baldwin shot at Mr. Robson with a double barreled pistol making a hole through his vest but doing no further damage. Mr. Robson struck Baldwin across the head with an iron poker and gave him a very painful wound.

The Fruit and Wheat.
Not a half crop of apples this year and the peaches and cherries are rotting and falling off.
The wheat has been damaged by the Hessian fly, and has now the rust in its blades. But the recent sunshine has brought it out some, and the prospect for a wheat crop is more encouraging.

By the way an old farmer told us the other day you could always tell when to sow a large crop of wheat by looking at the Almanac and seeing the "latitude of the moon" on Christmas night. If it was a light moon then sow a heavy crop—but if dark put in a light one. Christmas night was a dark moon.

Real Estate in Hillsboro.
At Henry N. Brown's sale the 4th of this month real estate went at the following figures:
The Home place, 93 acres, good house and all necessary out houses brought $2,800; four town lots $405; the store house of H. N. Brown with all the buildings and lots attached $3,125. The Orange Hotel brought $1,500. Other lots and houses both here and in Chapel Hill we have not time to give in this paper. May do so at another time.

Variety of Irish Potatoes.
We are decidedly of opinion there is too great a variety of potatoes, much more than the people do seem to understand or fully appreciate. We accidentally overheard a conversation between three well to do and substantial farmers.

Mr. A—Good morning, neighbor; fine day this.
Mr. B—Tolerably; yes, a fine day.
How are your potatoes thriving this year?
Well, as fine as I ever saw. I tried a new variety this year. I planted the 'Early Rens'—Well, I tried a new variety—I planted the 'Early York,' and think they are an excellent variety.

About this time, up steps Mr. C and engages in the "variety" question.
Mr. C—Well, gentlemen you may say what you please about your Early Rens and your Early Yorks but I am still sticking to the "old 'Peach Tree'" for I have been planting the "Peach Tree Potatoes" for about twenty years and I think they are decidedly the best.

To-morrow.
To-morrow is the day for the opening sales of the Durham Tobacco Warehouse, established by Mr. H. A. BRAMS, a tobacco dealer of twenty years experience. BRAMS knows how to run a model Warehouse and he'll run it; it remains to be seen whether the prices of his sales do not cause the Tobacco to roll into him. The more markets the more tobacco will be raised and the better for the planters. We understand that they have thirteen Tobacco Factories at Durham. It rather surprises us; we had no idea of the existence of half this number. Thirteen Factories must have a good many buyers; and a good many buyers will make tobacco bring its worth. This Warehouse will probably let planters hear from its sales in due course of time. The proprietor is no "sardine."

Durham is a village on the N. C. Rail Road, 20 miles this side of Raleigh, and is looking over with an enterprise that needs but a liberal use of printer's ink to make the town outgrow the hills of the field.

The "Memorial Ceremonies" were postponed on the 10th on account of the rain. They will take place to-morrow, Thursday evening, at half past five o'clock from the Burwell house. The ladies are requested to meet at the Burwell house in the morning at half past eleven o'clock to make proper preparation therefor.

Mr. F. N. Stradwick will deliver the address. If the weather is bad the Memorial Exercises will be postponed till the next clear day. Let all attend these honors paid at the hands of our noble women.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT MEETING.

A Printing Office full of Enterprise.
A meeting of the editors and employees of this paper was held in the Recorder office last Saturday morning at ten o'clock to consider the building of the Hillsboro and DAVENPORT RAILROAD—a Charter for which was granted by the last Legislature. Mr. T. J. Freeland, a worthy farmer of Orange, was called to the Chair and Mr. Daniel McDade appointed Secretary. The meeting had hardly come to order ere loudly called for. Mr. Evans responded in the following vein:

Mr. C. N. B. EVANS WAS

Mr. Chairman: I am unaccustomed to rostrum exercises and it is with feelings of no ordinary diffidence and embarrassment that I rise to respond to the call made—Indeed, sir, "you would scarce expect one of my age to speak in public on this stage," and appearing upon the forum to-day for the first time since my school-boy days, I must ask this large and intelligent audience to "view me not with a critic's eye," and to "pass my imperfections by."

Mr. Chairman, as I understand the object of this meeting it is to consider the subject of a Rail Road from this town via Prospect Hill and Yanceyville to the enterprising town of Danville, Va., which furnishes the planters of Carolina and the border Counties of Virginia with a tobacco mart equalling any other to be found in the United States for ready sales and fair prices. The Road we have under consideration Mr. Chairman, penetrates the finest tobacco country in the world and gives Rail Road facilities to a tax-paying people who need and deserve these facilities as much as any other section in the State. It may be asked why the people on this route are slumbering in such criminal indifference in regard to the building of a road that will enhance the value of their lands three-fold? Sir, if they give it half the attention thrown away on party politics, it will not be long ere the iron horse is heard snorting in the vicinity of Prospect Hill and Yanceyville. Let no man fold his arms and say it can't be built. That is the stereotyped cry raised against all enterprise. It CAN be built. When there is a will there is a way. But if no action is taken—no effort made—you may bet your bottom dollar the Road will not build itself.

I perceive, sir, that a Rail Road meeting was held last Saturday at Yanceyville, but as I understand that meeting considered a different line—a Road via Company's Shops to the Coal Fields of Chatham. This would leave Orange and portions of Caswell and Person that need Rail Road facilities standing out in the cold, and it belongs to the friends of the Prospect Hill route to awake from their apathy and come to the rescue. This is a bee-line from Yanceyville to Raleigh, and is about 20 or 25 miles nearer the markets of Wilmington and Newbern. And there is a Rail Road almost completed running from the N. C. Central Road to the Coal Fields, intersecting the Central route this side of Raleigh. This would put Danville in trade with the Chatham Coal Fields, without the expense of constructing a road from the Shops to these fields.

But, Mr. Chairman, while the property holders of this town and the landholders of the County evince no disposition to secure the building of this Rail Road, why should I give myself the least concern? I do not own land enough in the town or the county to give me a grave. I never expect to own it as long as I follow the misfortunes of printing. And it may—nay, it probably will—be deemed presumptuous in me to lift my voice for the improvement of this town. Sir, anticipating more cures than thanks, I close up with the remark that I do not care three stiches of a dried flet, whether the Road is built from Danville to this place or to Company's Shops. Give me leave to add, sir, that the Road will be built, at no distant day and without an effort—I may say without "a long pull, a strong pull, a pull altogether"—of the people on this route who ought to feel much more interest in it than I do, it is more than a thousand old towns standing out in the cold.

Loud and unanimous calls were then made for

OUR MAN, "JINKS," who stepped to the aft and spoke thusly:
Mr. Chairman:—I own nothing more in this bright and prosperous land of ours than a poor man's plaster and a couple of bull dogs; however, I delight in anything that is 2-4-6 and would rather hear the snort of the iron horse than bark to the drag of an ox cart driven by two men and a boy with a stump tail dog behind. This bag and basket system of from hand to mouth living will never be anything more among our people of this middle section, so long as nothing but politics is gazetted to them from the stump and the seeds of discord and party strife sown broadcast in their midst. It but tends to distill the mildew and the rot and never a drop of fat does it drip on the pastures of the farmer, you bet.

The people, sir, are too prone to talk of what ought to be done and to take it out in talking. I knew a little boy once that made an eternal fuss at night crying out he was cold. And because his mammy didn't get up, but told him to pull the cover on his own self—he rared and hollered and said "he'll be darned if he didn't freeze futh'!" How much longer, sir, will our people sleep out in the cold?

Everybody can give something towards the building of this road; and I am sure it will pay much better than buying pictures of Gen. Washington, or sitting half a day in some ten cent calico store talking about the democrats and radicals. Why, sir, old Caswell will come up tight—Wilkinson himself, of Milton, will throw a bundle of greenbacks at it as big as your hat. And as for old Danville—you may just browse there like a big pasture where every head of grass is crowned with a belly full of sustenance. Get her good under steam and she'll nearly build the road herself. We will guarantee too that the Richmond and Danville Railroad as well as Richmond herself will give us material help.

Mr. Chairman, I am nearly through. After the manner of blowing on a weak flute my wind has high played out. I am lost, sir, that according to usual custom some manifestation of applause will be shown when I take my seat. So draw the squeak out. I have done.

After the uproar had subsided and "order" been restored, Mr. McDade,

of the meeting, was called to his feet and made the following response in a few short and appropriate remarks:

Mr. Chairman—I am surprised that you should call on me. It has been my custom to "set up" speeches; not to make them. In fact I had rather schooled myself into the notion that a compositor was nothing more than a kind of horse neck for "leading" men and professional young "hats" to hitch their Pegasus to and mount to fly into the aerie of eternal fame. Sir, I would give that paste cup full of greenbacks to this Enterprise if I had it—but you know how it is yourself about getting the greenbacks, (cries of yes! yes!) Mr. Chairman, I do trust this road will be built; and now that the ball has been started, I say, in the language peculiarly adapted to the functions I perform at Press work—"Roll on! Roll over!" (Applause.)

The meeting then said it would like to hear from the worthy Chairman and took the floor under a perfect storm of applause. Mr. Freeland said he was an old Mexican soldier, and had soldiered in the Lost Cause, and weighed 200 pounds besides—so it couldn't be expected of him to make much of a light and aerial talk. But, by hokey! he would plank down as much money or as much land, according to his means, as the next farmer in Orange, or in Caswell either. The way to do the thing gentlemen, as the Captain says, is not to take it all out in talking. (A voice—"that's so.") (The "Captain"—"that's the idea!") No, Sir—ee! We've got to go to work to build this road. And I move that we now appoint C. N. B. Evans a delegate to that Railroad meeting that's to come off in Danville.

Mr. Evans—If my rheumatism gets no better it will be impossible for me to attend. Mr. Freeland—Well, then that the Junior go in your place.

The Junior—Mr. Chairman, if I continue to be "indisposed" there is some doubt of my attending; so I suggest as an amendment, "or any other man."

The amendment was adopted by a unanimous vote and the meeting stood adjourned. Though just before adjournment a resolution was offered by Mr. Freeland which passed the whole house as sleek as goose grease and was as follows:

Resolved: That we are glad to see so much enthusiasm amongst our people on this subject and that we entreat them to hold meetings and appoint energetic and talking and working men to go about and solicit subscriptions and that a big meeting be held respectively both in Hillsboro and Danville.

Can't See It.
We can't see the adv. of a breech-loading double barreled gun valued at $80 and offered to us at $30 cash and a year's advertising. Do you see anything 'green?' Spose y'r shot gun isn't worth $30? Don't want it no how—we've made friends with the yankees and quit killin' folks.

We can't see a Northern watch-maker's advertisement offered on similar terms, to wit, advertise to amt. of $75—pay him $35 cash and receive a $75 watch. It might be a dear bargain at 75 cents.

Nor can we exactly see that dead-head proclamation of Gov. Caldwell, published in yesterday's Telegraph, exhorting every body to observe law and order and behave cleverly. We have done it and mean to continue, but the State is not poorer than we are, and is fully as able to pay for its proclamations as we are to advertise for nothing.

High Prices for Tobacco.

The attention of Planters is called to the sales of Tobacco made by the Farmers' Warehouse recently in Danville, Va., and advertised in this paper. The prices are what we term "tall" and must have been highly satisfactory to the sellers. Our friend Brightwell, one of the clever proprietors of this house, is an old planter and generally raises the prettiest yellow leaf tobacco to be found in Pennsylvania county. We commend this Warehouse to the patronage of Planters in search of big prices and good treatment.

WRETCHED.

(From a wretch.)
Wretched—my soul is torn.
Life is a play, a tempest of self;
Who cares less I be lost?
All they care for is greedy self.
Wretched—but none of thy talk!
Then that rebuked me,
Thou villain, thou keen eyed hawk!
That rebuked the poor in secrecy.
Wretched—but I ask no odds,
Whip on with cruel jeers!
A voice on high that's from the Gods
Soothes me and pities my tears.
Wretched—but there's a Lord,
I look up to heaven's own door;
I see it, I see it! Faith's own silver cord,
I am wretched no more.

Collected.

E. B. SPENCE & Son, of Richmond, have collected us completely. This morning we received by express a set of beautiful toilet towels filled with handsome collars and stylish neck ties. We will wear that Firm around our neck for lo! these many days.

The Robesonian thinks the Telegraph and this paper "amuse" themselves by "mutually puffing each other." Wouldn't the Robesonian like to come in for a small taste of this "amusement," or does it do its own "puffing" by eating hot ginger-cakes and drinking sweet cider?

Persons having Tobacco Stems to sell will do well to sell them to Mr. J. H. Pemberton, of Danville. He is Agent for a Foreign House and pays the best prices. (See adv.)

MILTON.

Change in the Wilson Warehouse—Tobacco rolling in—High prices—Every body pleased—The Wilkerson Warehouse going it with a rush.

Mr. W. H. Johnston has withdrawn from this mammoth establishment and it is now run by Messrs. Wilson & Walker, names familiar to the planters in Caswell and the adjacent Counties and most favorably known. Mr. Wilson was a large manufacturer of Tobacco in Milton anterior to the war, and his fair and honest dealing, both as buyer of tobacco and dry goods merchant gave every body the most unbounded confidence in him. They tie to him to this day, and well they may, for Heaven looks upon no man more upright and clever. The name may be said of his partner, Mr. F. L. Walker. Planters will find this House all that they can desire.—(See card and send on your Tobacco.)

We make the following extracts from a private business letter dated

MILTON, N. C., May 12.

Tobacco is pouring in; receipts seem to increase daily and prices highly satisfactory. Those with good tobacco go home perfectly delighted. The WILKERSON Warehouse has been selling a good deal of that fine tobacco from the Tally-Ho country, and they all went home perfectly delighted. Yesterday this Warehouse sold a lot at $60, the entire crop averaged $27. This House sold a crop for Johnson and Meadows a few days ago at an average of FORTY Dollars; it sold Fifteen thousand pounds of tobacco one day last week at an average of TEN dollars. All the Houses here are doing well, but the WILKERSON is "spreading" itself, and very rarely fails to send its patrons off rejoicing. Tell the Planters to send in their Tobacco, and that this is the market for big prices and fair dealing.

TOWN DIARY.

Pleasant
Money is tight and so is everybody.
A man and his family looked for a cent under a door-step all day long yesterday.

Sheep leaver has just reached town. We want one just to walk tip-toe under. They are so sweet. La!

The mayor has made a beginning by lodging two youths from the country in jail for getting drunk and cursing on the street.

Mr. Norfolk—a merchant in Norfolk—was on a visit here last week. He used to merchandise at Chapel Hill. Has not been in Hillsboro but once before in 40 years.

Rev. De Bow just ordained a Missionary to China, held exercises in the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening.

The first lightning bug of the season made his appearance in our lot the other evening. He declared to us his intention to run for the legislature the very first chance he got.

We notice this season that the flies are of a very large and puffy appearance. They look like they drank hard.

A poor old dog was heard to exclaim the other day that he staid with his master but paid his own board—dog gone the thing.

A strange looking hog—we think he's been on some newspaper—takes breakfast in our yard every morning at ten. Our old sow asked us to "dead beat" him. Think we will.

We know an old drake whose side face is very much like a clever young man in Milton.

The colored people of this town have built a very creditable church for themselves.

RICHES.—"We see," said Swift, in one of his most sarcastic moods, "what God thinks of riches by the people He gives them to."

A NEGRESS, speaking of one of her children who was lighter colored than the rest, said: "I nobber could bear dat brat, cause he show dirt so easy."

A SWEET young lady says that males are of no account from the time the ladies stop kissing them as infants till they commence kissing them as lovers.

The writer was describing a new organ: "The swell died away in a delicious suffocation, like one singing a sweet song under the bedclothes."

MARK TWAIN, lecturing on the Sandwich Islands, offered to show how the cannibals ate their food if some young lady would hand him a baby. The lecture was not illustrated.

A TEACHER of vocal music asked an old lady if her grandson had any ear for music? "Wal, de fac is, nigger, a jury of inquest am a lot ob fellers wat sets down on a dead man to find out whether he am dead for sartin or only playin' possum."

"Pomp, what am de jury of inquest?" "Wal, de fac is, nigger, a jury of inquest am a lot ob fellers wat sets down on a dead man to find out whether he am dead for sartin or only playin' possum."

"This is a reporter, See-how-jolly-he-looks, A-man-has-cut-his-throat, And-he-is-going-up-four-pairs-of-stair To-get-the-iten."

In a pool, across the road, in the county of Tipperary, Ireland, is stuck up a pole, having affixed to it a board, with this inscription: "Take notice, that when the water is over this board, the road is impassable."

A Mississippi paper shows the advantages of advertising by telling of a man who advertised in its columns for a lost cow, and had it restored to him before the paper was distributed, "with a copy of the Index stuck on its horn."

"That man," said a wag, "came to Natchas forty years ago, purchased a basket, and commenced gathering rags. How much do you suppose he is worth now?" "Nothing," he continued, after a pause, "and he owes for the basket."

LIGHT Moustache.—A gentleman who entered a barber's shop to get shaved was recommended by the barber to raise a moustache.

"I can't do it," "Oh, yes, you can, sir, if you'll try. A light summer one, anyhow."

A BLESSING.—We had related to us the other day an anecdote of an old lady who formerly entertained travellers in a neighboring county. Before the guests commenced a meal it was her custom to ask a blessing.

"O Lord! make us truly thankful for the food that is now before us. Nauey, hand around the corn bread first, and then the biscuit afterward. Amen!"

A youth was leaving his aunt's house after a visit, when, finding it was beginning to rain, he caught up an umbrella that was snugly placed in a corner, and was proceeding to open it, when the old lady, who for the first time observed his movements, sprung towards him, exclaiming, "No, no, that you never shall. I've had that umbrella twenty-three years, and it has never been wet yet; and I'm sure it shan't be wetted now!"

DOZ. ATKINSON, of Milton, is a wag; when the small-pox was there Dol went to visit some old maiden women named the Taylors. They were afraid of "ketchin' it" and locked the door to keep him out. Dol threatened to "pitch some in through the key-hole" if they didn't open the door. One of the old women sung out: "Let him in, sister! for that is the no's ketchin' way, I roo'd, it ever was took." Adolphus entered.—[Cor. of Hillsboro Recorder.]

A CERTAIN negro was so convinced of the loveliness of his race that he was indifferent as to his future state, believing that "dey'll make him work eben in heaven, if it is to shub de clouds away!"

A Mobile negro who had twenty cents worth of powder in his pocket, put a red-hot pipe in there with it. "How is that for high?" was the remark of an old seven-up player, as the form of the colored man became like a speck in the sky. "There is one vacant chair and a vacant hat at his late residence."

A CHARMING CUSTOM.—Somebody, evidently an old bachelor used to such things, thus describes how they do in Maine: "Quaker young ladies in the Maine Law State, it is said, still continue to kiss the lips of the young temperance men to see if they have been tampering with liquor. Just imagine a beautiful young temperance woman, with all the dignity of an executive officer, and the innocence of a dove, with the charge, 'Mr.—the ladies believe you are in the habit of tampering with liquor, and they have appointed me to examine you according to our established rules; are you willing?' You nod acquiescence. She gently steps clo or to you lays her white arm around your neck, dashes back her raven curls, raises her sylph-like form upon tip-toe, her snowy, heaving bosom against your own, and with her angelic features lit up with a smile as sweet as heaven places her rich, rosy, pouty, sugar, molasses, lily, rose-bud, cream tart, apple pie, peach pudding, apple darning, gingerbread, nectar lips against yours, and (O Jerusalem, hold me!) kisses you. Hurrah for the girls and Maine Law, and death to all opposition!"
